

This group of workmen helped build the new George Public School, started in 1920 and completed in time for classes in the fall of 1922. The only person identified was Tobe Lamfers, who is in the middle of the front row.

This building, still standing and being used when this book was published, was opened in 1922.

In and Around
George, Iowa
1913 - 1950
page 38