

Donald Clark, 19

HARLAN — Donald Dwayne Clark, the son of Lois Clark and Donald Jones, was born Oct. 31, 1971, in Onawa. At the age of one year, he moved with his family to Harlan. Donnie "Duck", as he was nicknamed by his friends, attended school in Harlan, where he currently resided, and went on to be employed by Nebraska Boxed Beef in Omaha. He died Sept. 13, 1990, at the Bishop Clarkson Memorial Hospital in Omaha, NE., from complications while having a short struggle with leukemia. He was a member of First Christian Church in Harlan.

Preceding him in death was his brother, Tommie Grimes in 1969; his fraternal grandfather, George Jones; and his maternal grandfather, Lloyd Fetter. Surviving him is his mother, Lois Clark; his natural father, Donald Jones; his adopted father, Donald Clark; four brothers, John and Eddie Grimes, both of Little Sioux; Robert Clark of Co. Bluffs and Dale Clark of Harlan; two sisters, Pat Woodward and Sherry Barber, both of Harlan; his fraternal grandmother, Mildred Jones of Onawa; his maternal grandmother, Marie Fetter of Ukiah, CA., and various aunts, uncles, cousins and other step-family members.

Funeral services were held Sept. 17, 1990 at First Christian Church in Harlan with Rev. Don Schoepf, officiating. Burial was in the Harlan cemetery. Pauley Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.